

BACHELORS – STORIES THAT HELP

Preserving Humanity for Future Generations

Motto: “Blessed is the person who has the opportunity to dedicate their life to something greater than themselves, and who is surrounded by friends who share that passion.”

Imagine a chronicle of human destinies that reveals the hidden truths of the planet – stories from corners of the world that would remain forever forgotten without your intervention.

The Bachelors – Stories that Help project collects these authentic testimonies as a memento of the present for future generations.

You, visionaries and world-class leaders, have a unique chance to become their guardians: to revive them, preserve them and turn them into a lasting legacy.

The project is divided into two exclusive chapters:

Stories of the Year

– raw, uncompromising destinies that do not condition anything and reflect the ruthless reality, but also the cheerful side of life and, perhaps most importantly, hope

Stories with a touch of faith

– deep testimonies of Christians, where God's presence dramatically intervenes in the destinies of both believers and those around them, stories that influence the world with their powerful testimony.

Become a personality who creates history. Support the Bachelor and write a chronicle of the present – for a world that will remember you thanks to the stories of ordinary people.
